1. An order of fifty power plant boilers of the Taganrog type are being built in East Germany for the Soviet Union. Thirty-eight of these boilers are being built at the Karl-Liebknecht-Werk in Magdeburg, 38 at the Polysius Werk, Dessau, and 4 at Kesselbau, Gera. The boilers are of various sizes, between 26 and 36 tons per hour capacity and operational pressures of between 16 to 28 atm. 25X1
2. The Soviet acceptance officials for these boilers, Grigoriev and Anufriev, are making all sorts of difficulties because of the unsatisfactory construction of the boilers.
